EQUALITY

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Boys and girls (or men and women) are both important and all should be treated with respect. No one should be made uncomfortable or afraid by what people say or do. Each person needs to show care to others, listen to their ideas and treat either gender with dignity.

Disrespect to others is shown when we speak unkindly, call people names, make jokes about them or take no notice when they ask us to stop doing something or when they say "No" to being touched.

Threatening, hitting and hurting others results when we do not respect people. It is not okay to hit others. Many people are hurt and even killed when their partner is violent to them.

This is called domestic violence. One in every three women in the world are victims of domestic violence. Set an example to your friends by being polite and by treating people with respect.

People who drink alcohol are most likely to disrespect others and be violent to them.
